SUMMER 2018 ONLINE! PHOTOJOURNALISM FOR ADVISERS

JRN 310/808 » 3 credits

July 2 to Aug. 16, 2018

Instructor: Julie Price

Take your photography to the next level with training from the Michigan State University School of Journalism. Learn tips on how to compose strong photos, how to get the most out of your camera and what it takes to be a photojournalist — all while developing techniques to teach these skills in your own classroom.

This online class will help you improve your digital photography skills and will provide techniques to teach photography to staff members of high school student media outlets. Take this class to meet state or district professional development requirements or as part of an MSU degree program.

Learn from Julie Price, who teaches journalism and photography courses at Haslett High School. Price advises the Viking Longboat newspaper and Dixit Yearbook. Before becoming a teacher, Julie worked in newspapers in California and Michigan for 15 years as a sportswriter, features writer, editor and copy editor. She also teaches photo classes for students at the MIPA Summer Journalism Workshop.
