TV & AUDIO BROADCAST

You have the power to shape the world around you through the images and sounds you capture, facts you uncover and stories you tell. But first you have to break through the clutter.

How can you stand out from all the other messages that surround us?

Now is the time to FIND YOUR VOICE.

Let us help you at the 2020 MIPA Summer Journalism Workshop at Michigan State University from July 26-30.

Whether you're interested TV, radio or podcasting, MIPA's broadcasting classes will give you hands-on experience producing video or audio projects. Work with our award-winning instructors in one of these broadcast classes:

- PODCASTING, AUDIO STORYTELLING & RADIO: Work with the general manager of Michigan State's award-winning student radio station to learn how to produce audio content for radio and digital platforms. You'll work in MSU's radio studios to explore techniques for audio storytelling and explore technologies used to produce work for broadcast radio and podcasts.

- BROADCAST BOOT CAMP: Gain on-the-job production skills to build video story packages, develop an on-air presence and produce a TV broadcast. You'll work in Michigan State's student broadcasting studios and the School of Journalism's state-of-the-art newsroom to produce a produce a daily news show.
